INVESTING IN BLOOMINGTON

How County funding is supporting projects that improve quality of life in your community.

We Hear this Question Often: "If I pay property taxes, where does that money go?"

Bloomington is an unincorporated community, which means there is no city government. Instead, Bloomington is served by San Bernardino County.

Property taxes help fund many services throughout the County, including:

- Public safety
- Roads and infrastructure
- Parks and recreation
- Public health services
- Animal care services
- Homeless outreach programs
- Other County services

How Does Bloomington Receive Funding?

Bloomington benefits from a variety of funding sources, including:

- County funding
- State grants
- Federal grants
- Community Benefit & Improvement Reserve (CBIR) funding

These funds help pay for projects and improvements right here in Bloomington.

Did You Know?

Over the past several years, millions of dollars have been invested in Bloomington projects to improve parks, support youth programs, upgrade infrastructure, and enhance quality of life for residents.
